A Message from the Board President

Dear Friends,

Domestic Violence Services of Snohomish County (DVS) had a phenomenal 2013/2014 fiscal year. The experience of a full year in our new shelter and service center was truly a game changer. After years of hard work, we are now able to truly see the fruits of our labor. The number of shelter residents have increased significantly even though we ramped up rather slowly so as not to overwhelm staff and clients when the doors opened. We have found that people are healing quicker and the children are responding faster than ever before.

“While in shelter we have felt safe in your hands and were more secure than ever before. The advocates were good listeners with very positive attitudes. My advocate worked very hard to help us and to make sure that we found a home of our own.” Notes just like these come to us periodically and each one, as you can imagine, is very special.

Over the years the Board of Directors, staff and volunteer teams have worked continually to evaluate the needs of our clients and the community we serve. Each individual that comes through our doors is unique. Some come to us in need of everything imaginable while others simply need a clean, safe and quiet space for healing. Yet everyone has one common need: understanding and support.

Thanks to our incredible donors and volunteers assisting us daily with ongoing gifts of time and support, we are able to do the great work we do. It gives each of us at DVS great pause to see our community stand up with us as we all move in unison toward ending violence.

On behalf of all of us at DVS, we would like to thank you for believing in our mission and for working beside us as we move through year another great year of anti-violence work. It is the true knowingness of community that makes our jobs so rewarding and reminds us that violence is never acceptable.

Jeff N. Olsen
President, DVS Board of Directors
